

73⁴ July 1846.

My dear Sir,

67

As you are about to embark for Liverpool, it occurred to me that I would request you to have the goodness to take the trouble, when in London, to make some Enquiry about an Institution called the Lancetaria, a species of Association with some of the peculiar features of which I confess I am well pleased. As its name implies, it professes to heal all the diseases, (or to go some way at least in so doing,) both bodily and mental, of its several Inmates.

Should you be able to obtain a prospectus or Report of this interesting Community, it would be a favor if you would bring it with you on your return.

Wishing you a pleasant and prosperous voyage, together with the accomplishment of your very philanthropic views for the benefit of dear-kind

I am, My dear Sir

Yours humble servant

J. Brown.

William Lloyd Garrison Esq
